Reserve Your Future Now

The Consumer Electronics Association (CEA)[®] is thrilled to return to France this October to host the third annual CES Unveiled Paris. At CES Unveiled Paris, technology companies are provided the platform to showcase their innovation to top members of the media and other industry influencers from France and abroad during a two-hour networking reception. This half-day, industry-only event is expected to draw more than 200 consumer tech professionals including members of the financial community, CEOs and buyers, all eager to catch a sneak peak at the latest technology coming to market. Don't miss this exclusive opportunity to build your brand, launch a product or meet your next business partner. Space is limited, book today!
